"Broad policy shifts need to be for the good of the people..."

Constructing Singapore Public Space

"Good public spaces are those where people can be free and bold."

First Things First

"The idea is pushing retail, F&B, the idea of events and performances higher up in the city, and pushing residential uses and workplace environments down."

Unlocking Value Above the Rail Yards

"Combining the green and blue in our city has brought about an increase in biodiversity where trees and flowers around stations such as orchard, haywards and mouth road."

Dense and Green Building

"Urban success was enabled by urban governance – formulates policy solutions, and sees them through with political will."

Singapore: The First City in Nature?